

Technical Specifications

Protection class: double-insulated

Protection rating: IP 67

Voltage: 110 to 240 volts

Power: max. 10 watts

Self-regulating heating element

Minka's Tiled Stove is TÜV-tested and CE-certified, and is registered and protected as a design patent.

We offer a 3-year warranty.

Minka's Tiled Stove CeraNatur®

B 44cm | H 7cm | T 33cm | 6,1kg

DENK MINKA'S TILED STOVE

Our workshop cat was named Minka. Since she always liked to curl up on the radiator, we built her her own little tiled stove. For several years now, Minka's Tiled Stove has been used by cat lovers and breeders. Our customers are thrilled with the positive effect it has on their beloved pets.

.....

Minka's Tiled Stove is made from CeraNatur® and is electrically heated. The self-regulating heating element has an energy-efficient output of 10 watts and keeps the tiled heater at a constant 48°C. The electricity cost is approximately 5 cents per 24 hours.

Depending on the ambient temperature, Minka's Tiled Stove takes about 3 hours to warm up. However, the entire resting surface does not heat up evenly. That would be uncomfortable for the cat. Instead, temperature zones form that slope downward from the center. A pad is important here to buffer the heat and distribute it. The special ceramic tiles store the heat and release it as deep-penetrating warmth to the cat.

Thanks to its size of 44 × 33 cm, even chubby “brumms” can fit comfortably on Minka's Tiled Stove. Minka's Tiled Stove gets warm on the underside when in use. However, the heating element cannot overheat or cause any damage.

The tiled stove can therefore be placed on carpeted or wooden floors without any concerns. Minka's Tiled Stove can also be used outdoors. The heating element is waterproof and built into the ceramic, so even rain can't damage it. For outdoor cats, the tiled stove can therefore be placed in a weather-protected spot on the balcony, the patio, or under a pergola.

Tip:

Cats are cautious animals. Please give your cat time to discover Minka's tiled stove on its own. It makes no sense to force the animal to get used to it. It sometimes takes a few days for the cat to take an interest. Once it has felt the warmth, it will remain its favorite spot. The sofa, armchair, and bed are no longer as interesting.

Cats lie on Minka's Tiled Stove in a particularly relaxed and natural way. Cats are sensitive and cautious animals and tend to avoid artificial materials. Depending on the cat's warmth needs, filling material can be removed or added. This allows Minka's Tiled Stove to be tailored precisely to the needs of each individual cat. The cover can be hand-washed at 40°C.

Cleaning

Minka's Tiled Stove can be easily cleaned with a soft brush, lukewarm water, and a mild household cleaner. If the cat owner isn't home, the cat's space must be heated separately in winter so that the heat-loving cat doesn't get cold. With Minka's Tiled Stove, this is no longer necessary. The cat always has a warm place to rest, and the heating can be set to a low, energy-efficient setting.

What's Included

The package includes a resting cushion filled with straw or hay. It retains the stove's heat and creates a soothing, gentle radiant warmth on the floor. The cushion can also be filled with herbs as needed. Just like a hay or herb pillow for humans, it has a soothing effect on the cat, as the warmth releases aromatic scents. This allows cats to rest and relax on Minka's Tiled Stove in the best possible way.